ALABAMA REPORTER

TALLADEGA, ALA.

M. H. CRUIKSHANK, EDITOR.

THURSDAY, January 26, 1865.

FOR GOVERNOR
COL. M. J. BULGER.

☞ We publish a communication signed "Veritas" in our paper to-day. We have expressed our views in a former number of the Reporter, on the subject, the writer advocates. We are opposed to putting negroes in the army as soldiers, we do not believe that they will make good soldiers, besides we need them at home to make provisions for our army. We are informed that the measure is gaining favor in Congress, the subject is being discussed in that body, and it is believed, by some, that they will put the negroes in the army.

We lay before our readers a communication from our correspondent "C," from Richmond.

We also publish a letter from "R. C." our correspondent in Hood's army. Read them.

See advertisement of negroes for sale by the incorporation.
Also Adv. of Lost Certificate.

CAMP 33d ALA. REGIMENT,
Okolono, Miss., Jan. 8, 1865.

Dear Reporter—

Since I wrote you last, the year eighteen hundred and sixty four, with its joys, its sorrows, its turmoils and strifes, its bitter wranglings, its sad disappointments, and anticipated hopes never to be realized, has passed and gone to the great Ocean of Eternity. O, what a world of events have crowded themselves into that narrow space. Another year has come and gone and yet our languishing country bleeds. Eighteen hundred and sixty four has passed away. Eighteen hundred and sixty-five has dawned upon us, and yet, widows wails and orphan's cries fasten every breeze that ascends to Heaven. Thank God, that after four years of the most bloody strife known to modern times, the old Confederate Ship of State yet successfully rides the storm. Our veteran armies are yet hopeful, they yet stand firm. Let us then, at the dawn of this, another New Year, renew our covenant, each with the other, that we will stand by the Infant Republic in this her darkest hour. Alabamians! every mothers' son of you are needed at the front. Skulker, at the rear, to you I especially appeal, your bleeding country demands the sacrifice—will you go? Ladies, of Alabama and the South, to you I also appeal. Drive from among you those drawing-room heroes who so largely infest our towns and cities; you can do more to recruit the ranks of the army, in one day, than all the Enrolling officers can accomplish in a whole year. The enlisted hands and outstretched arms of seventy regiments of suffering Alabamians—your sons and brothers appeal to you to drive the surplus material to the front. People of Alabama, men of the Confederacy to you I also appeal. Rise, O sons of Freedom, land of Washington arise in the majesty of thy might and let us hurl this ruthless invader from our soil.

Let us present the splendid spectacle of a whole Nation in arms, alive to the defence of their rights, liberties and firesides. Let us make one more effort to reclaim the green fields and sunny homes that now languish in the possession of the hated foe. Let us have a revival of the spirit and enthusiasm of '61, and we will be enabled to bear our flags triumphantly against a World in arms. Do this and soon the enemy will be driven beyond our borders, the bright sun of liberty will soon arise and scatter forever the dark and lowering clouds from our political horizon and shed its effulgent rays over the balmy plains of a redeemed, disenthralled South. And ere the present year comes to a close, peace and plenty will sit slumbering at every door throughout the length and breadth of our sunny land. But on the other hand rest on in ease, withhold from our armies that legitimate support, comfort and sustenance which so happily contributes as a bulwark of their strength, power, and efficiency, by speculating and hording up a few of this world's goods. Do this, and I greatly fear that the darkest hours of the Republic are yet to come. Turn a deaf ear to this say, to that noble band of self-sacrificing patriots who are standing on our borders with bosoms bared to the storms of war; and soon I fear that you will have to calculate the dark gage of woe, which the retreating footsteps of a disheartened soldiery will write upon the very threshold of your homes, and the center of the Confederacy.

There is nothing down here, in this "Land of Mud," that would be of interest to your numerous readers. Remember me, in kindness, to Tom, and all enquiring friends. Trusting that you have spent a pleasant Christmas, and wishing the Reporter a happy New Year, I bid you adieu for the present.

More anon,
B. C.

NEW DAILY PAPER IN RICHMOND.
PROSPECTUS.

THE undersigned propose to publish a daily paper, under the title of "THE RICHMOND HERALD," on or about the 15th of January next.

It will be entirely independent in politics, but will nevertheless accord to the administration a fair support in all measures, which in the opinion of its conductors, may be deemed promotive of the good of the cause in which we are engaged.—A proper criticism of such acts as will be deemed adverse to this subject will be, of course consistent with the independent character under which the paper is to be conducted.

It is not necessary now proper to be mentioned, we believe to give the names of those who shall compose the regular editorial staff, but we flatter ourselves when they shall appear they will be found to constitute such an army of talent as cannot be excelled in this continent.

The well known character of the individual whose name appears below, as a stenographic reporter, furnishes, we presume, a guarantee that, in all that relates to important political speeches and debates, whether in legislative assemblies or out of them, the "HERALD" will present advantages certainly not to be excelled by any paper in the Confederacy.

The farming interests will be faithfully vindicated, and care taken to disseminate the earliest intelligence which a proper regard for the welfare of that great element of national wealth and power shall demand.

In the matter of correct commercial intelligence, equal zeal shall be manifested, our object being to assign to each of these departments an editor of known experience and ability.

Arrangements are on foot by which to secure the earliest foreign news and the paper will contain such editorial talent as will fully educate the hearing of foreign diplomacy on Southern interests.

In short, THE RICHMOND HERALD will be found to combine every feature of interest which the requirements of the present crisis demand.

The enterprise is respectfully confined to the favor and patronage of the citizens of the Southern Confederacy.

All the papers in the Confederacy will copy till day and send bill to
